

Dear publisher,

Costa Rica, Bajos Del Toro, 6th of May 2025

As you publish a travel book about Costa Rica, we want to inform you about our two waterfall parks in Bajos Del Toro in Sarchí de Alajuela. These parks offer real value for money and will be helpful for your readers.

In short, we offer the Blue Falls of Costa Rica, with six unique blue waterfalls and pools, and Catarata Del Toro, with a 90-meter dramatic drop into an old volcanic crater. Together, they are an irresistible combination.

Blue Falls of Costa Rica

The Blue Falls of Costa Rica is a hidden gem offering a unique experience. The six blue waterfalls are known for their stunning blue color, resulting from the water's minerals. The blue waterfalls and pools are in lush tropical forests, making it a perfect spot for nature lovers and waterfall fans. Visitors often rave about the breathtaking scenery and the opportunity to swim in the blue pools. The trails are well-maintained, and while some parts can be challenging, the overall experience is enriching. Plus, the area is less crowded than other popular tourist spots, giving you a more serene and intimate experience.

The park is on a private 53 hectares of property, 100% allocated for our clients. It offers secure parking, restrooms, and extensive paved trails; all waterfalls are easily accessible; trained and friendly staff, lookouts with 360-degree views, primary forest, pools, and, however, not touchable: peace.

Nature as Perfect as It Can Get.

No swimming as it is hazardous! Suitable for everybody if you take your time coming up.

Catarata Del Toro Adventures S.A.

Ps. The area of Bajos Del Toro is growing and is well known as the waterfall capital of Costa Rica, with a soon-to-be-open national park, Juan Castro Blanco, known as the waterpark. It's a good time to revise it.
